

Kinmount Fair: They did it again this year

From horse draws to steam engines, there was plenty to see and do

It had just about everything. There were horse shows, talent contests, cattle and sheep competitions, two horse draws, steam traction engines, a sawmill and shingle mill, antique cars, a parade, midway rides, model steam engines, concessions, displays of handicrafts and horticulture, even a demolition derby. And over the weekend, thousands of people turned up to enjoy these and other attractions at the annual Kinmount Fair.

Organizers promised that this year's event would be bigger and better than ever, and despite rain that dampened fair goers on Sunday, no one was disappointed.

Activities got underway Friday night in Kinmount, with the naming of the Queen of the Fair. This year's winner was Laurie Rolfe of Kinmount. Named Princess was Helen Pearson, also of Kinmount.

Saturday was the biggest day of the fair, with competition in dozens of livestock and horse classes.

In the cattle competition, shorthorn class, Malcolm Bailey of Uxbridge and John Sims of Cameron each took away a number of first place ribbons. In the Hereford class, Eli Jones of Cameron and Lois Batty of Cobocok were the winners. Honours in the Charolais class were won by an animal owned by Mrs. Ethel Goble.

The sheep competition produced a number of winners in various classes. Major winners were Russel Dow of Bowmanville, George Miles of Minising, Doug Wright of Elmvale, Don Grant of Woodville, and Fred Thurston of Bobcaygeon.

Judging also took place in the exhibition hall for scores of awards in the handicrafts, horticulture and home economics divisions.

Among the major winners was Mary Hartin of Kinmount who took scores of firsts, including best display of baking. She had close to 150 entries overall.

Winner of the school lunch category was Carrie Dettman of Burnt River.

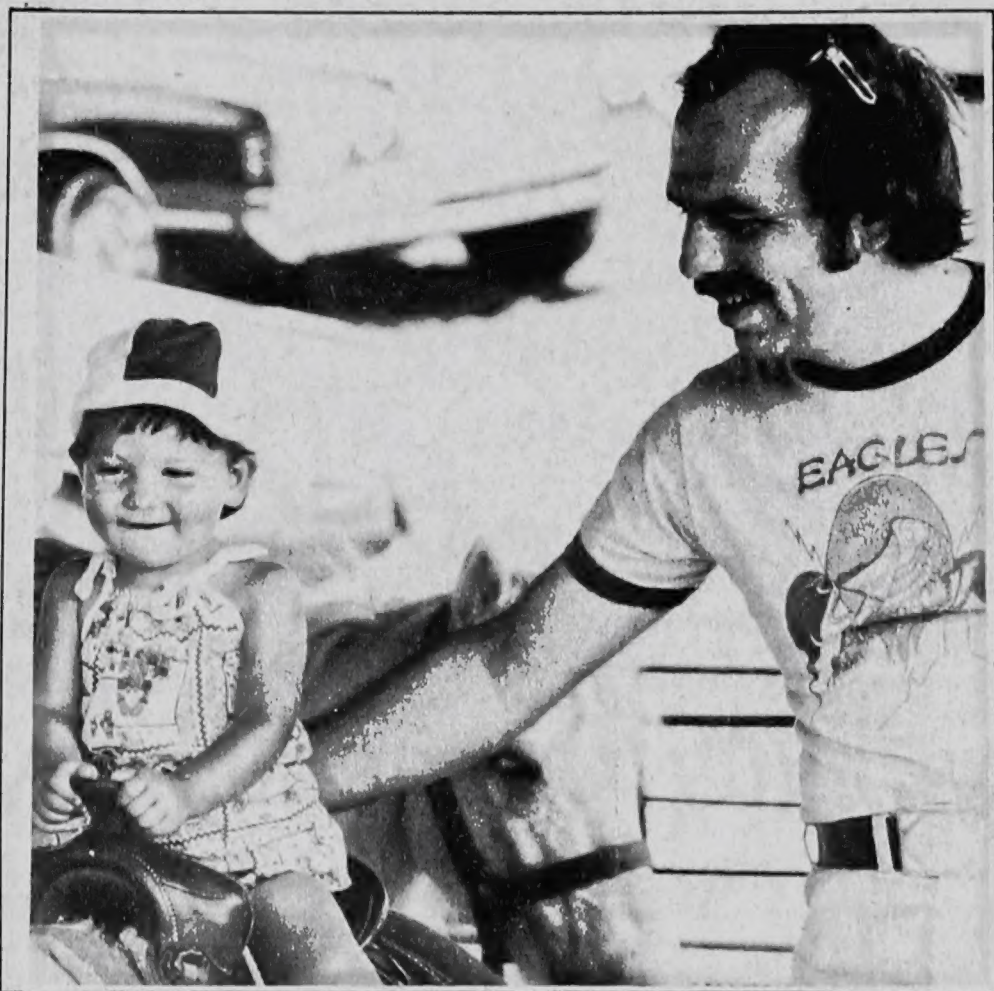

The chocolate cake special prize was awarded to Mrs. Orlee Wells of Cobocok. Sandra Fecht of Irondale had the prize quilt.

In the handicrafts divisions, the overall winner was Francis Willey of Minden. Taking the prize for the best original oil painting was Leona Burka of Lindsay.

In the school work division, the prize for the best kindergarten nursery rhyme went to Sarah Austin of Burnt River.

The best vegetable display in the exhibition hall was that of Margot Zorjen of Minden, while the best display of cut flowers was the entry of Fran

Youths hurl bottles, cruiser loses window

Beer bottles hurled by youths waiting in line for a rock concert at the Minden arena Saturday night smashed the rear window of an OPP cruiser and dented its bodywork. One officer was also reported struck by a flying bottle in the incident, which occurred as close to 2000 people lined up for admission to the concert.

Police on the scene laid more than 30 charges of illegal possession of liquor.

Constable Barry Connelly, one of five officers on duty Saturday night, said Monday that the cruiser was being used for completing paper work and for storing confiscated liquor when it was pelted by the crowd.

Officers were unable to pinpoint the assailants because of the length and width of the lineup.

It was the second time this year that a cruiser has been damaged by unruly youths, according to police.

Seniors apartments to open in Minden

Senior citizens housing units in Minden are expected to be ready for occupancy by the end of the month, following construction delays that have put the project two months behind schedule.

Mary Jane Huffman, Victoria County Housing Authority representative for the area, said in an interview Tuesday that officials from the Ministry of Housing carried out a "pre-final inspection" of the Minden building Thursday, and that the authority would assume administration of the complex within two weeks.

"We should be leasing by the end of the month with any luck at all," Huffman said. "We've put people off month by month and we don't like to do it anymore."

"We're keeping our fingers crossed," she said, adding that delays in the completion of large projects like the Minden apartment complex are not unusual.

The building is expected to fill up quickly. "We've had good response with applications," Huffman said. "We've offered each unit out and some of the offers have been declined, but we have several other applications we can choose from."

Units are allotted to senior citizens on the basis of need, and rent is geared to income. Construction costs are met by the Ministry of Housing, but individual municipalities agree to share a percentage of any operating deficits a building incurs.

Dump truck hits tree, damage set at $10,000

Damage was estimated at $10,000 when a dump truck collided with a tree in McClinck Township last Monday.

Glen Gallagher, 24 of Ottawa, was eastbound on County Road 12 when he lost control of the '75 dump truck he was driving. The vehicle entered the south ditch and struck a tree.

Gallagher suffered minimal injuries in the mishap.

Damage was estimated at $1,300 in a collision between a car and a dump truck on County Road 12 in McClinck Township last Tuesday. Police say Timothy Swift, 16 of Rexdale was eastbound in a construction area when he collided with a dump truck driven by Michael W. Adams, 20, of Elmvale.

Damage to Swift's car was estimated at $1000. Damage to the dump truck was estimated at $300. There were no injuries and no charges were laid.

A single car crash on South KENNISIS Lake Road resulted in an estimated $4000 damage last Tuesday.

Kim Holmes, 17, of Don Mills, was northbound on South KENNISIS Lake Road when the car he was driving went out of control. It entered the west ditch, struck a tree and continued on, hitting a rock and rolling over.

Holmes was not injured in the mishap.

A collision between two cars on Bingham Road in Anson Township resulted in an estimated $1,500 damage last Tuesday.

A sawmill powered by a steam traction engine drew a constant stream of curious onlookers throughout the weekend at the Kinmount Fair. With engineer Bert McArthur at the controls, the engine proved gasoline isn't the only fuel that can turn a log into boards in short order. McArthur's engine burns wood. For more fair pictures, see page 7.

Highway 121 pavement to be widened

Highway 121 from Minden to Haliburton will be widened to 23 feet when resurfacing is carried out in the summer of 1981, a Ministry of Transportation and Communications official has confirmed.

Dan Chretien, a planner/designer with the MTC's North Bay District, said at a public meeting in Haliburton Thursday that the new surface will be a uniform 7.5 metres wide. At present, Chretien said, the road surface varies from 20 to 22 feet in width.

The public meeting was called to give property owners adjacent to the highway an opportunity to discuss MTC plans for the project.

Some property acquisition will be necessary for what Chretien termed "minor realignments" at several points along the 15 mile stretch, but the acquisitions will be "minimal", he said.

Also called for are improvements to ditches and culverts, filling in of dips in the road bed, and changes in the configuration of several curves.

A new technique will be used for the repaving, Chretien said. The old surface will be ripped up, transported to a crusher, mixed with 30 per cent virgin material and laid down on the improved road bed. Traffic disruption is expected to be kept to a minimum while work is underway, since resurfacing will be carried out over mile long sections while the rest of the road remains intact. Completion will take between five and six months, Chretien said.

Also included in the estimated $1.5 million project cost is resurfacing of 121 from Haliburton Village to Loon Lake. No realignments or widening are planned for that section, Chretien said.

Close to 40 ratepayers turned out to view drawings of the project. Property acquisition and the preparation of final working drawings will be completed next year, Chretien said.

Property valued at $1075 was stolen from a cottage on Kawagama Lake last Monday while its owners were shopping in Dorset.

The cottage, owned by Scott R. Walker, was entered through a doorway between 3 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Reported stolen were stereo equipment, radios, a turn-

County school board among 16 to take part in Ministry reviews

Officials from the Ministry of Education will review nine aspects of education in Haliburton County over a two-week period, beginning October 2.

J. D. Hodgson, director of education for the Haliburton County Board, said in an interview last week that the Haliburton County Board is one of 16 in the province which will be reviewed this year. Purpose of the reviews is to provide the ministry with information about practices within individual boards, and about how ministry guidelines in various subject areas are being implemented.

Included will be a transportation audit and an enrolment audit in which recording procedures will be examined. Grade 13 mathematics, Man in Society, and music in the intermediate and senior divisions, are among the subjects receiving close scrutiny.

As well, the ministry officials will examine the teaching of the arts in grades one through six, multiculturalism, disciplinary practices, and the use of Circular 14, a ministry document which sets out lists of approved texts for various subject areas.

Hodgson stressed that the reviews are not intended to be an inspection of individual teachers or schools. Results of the reviews for the 16 boards across the province will be included in a report, which will not be made public.

Hodgson said the review process will give teachers a chance for input on ministry guidelines in various subject areas. For example, he said, the guideline for senior mathematics has been in effect for 20 years, and a new guideline is in the planning stages. Teacher input is expected to aid the ministry in preparing the guideline.

The reviews should also indicate if the teaching of the arts is being affected by declining enrolment, Hodgson said.

The reviews will be a first for the board.

"We've had reviews before, but we've never been selected for the breadth of reviews that the ministry proposes to do."

Hodgson said he didn't anticipate the ministry would find many problems either with subject areas or board practices.

"I don't expect that we'll find too much wrong," he said, "but on the other hand, if we do find things wrong, we want to fix them up."

The local reviews will conclude October 12.

Car, motorcycle collide on 121, man seriously injured

A 26-year old Minden man suffered serious leg injuries when the motorcycle he was riding struck a car Saturday night.

Timothy Hughes was westbound on Highway 121 on a borrowed Kawasaki motorcycle when he collided with an eastbound car driven by Paul M. Gilder, 18, of Haliburton, east of Ingoldsby.

Police say the headlight on the motorcycle was burned out, and that Gilder was crowding over the centre line when the vehicles collided.

Hughes was thrown from the machine as it entered the

Gifts led to interest for Ray Goulet

Art collection began by chance

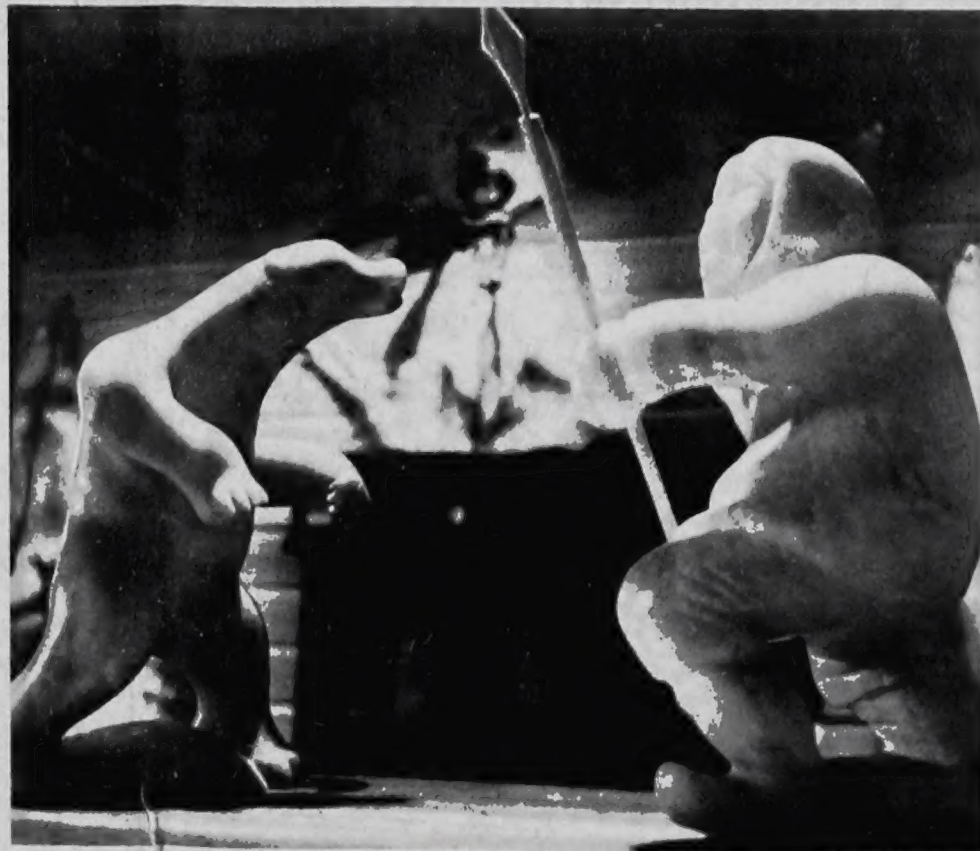

Ray Goulet didn't set out to become a collector of Inuit art. It just happened. Living in the Northwest Territories, he was surrounded by the art and culture of the Inuit, and as director of sports and recreation for the Territories, a position he held for 10 years, he travelled widely throughout Canada's arctic. The first piece was a gift from a government official as was the second. It wasn't long before there were others.

"All of a sudden I got one piece," he recalls, "and somebody gave me another piece and then somebody else gave me another piece." When cabinet ministers travelled through the area it wasn't unusual for Goulet to find work added to his collection. Eventually he began to buy pieces on his own, and the collection grew rapidly.

Today, Ray Goulet's collection runs to scores of pieces, and all of it is on display at the Raily's End Station Gallery.

It is the first time the collection has been shown

Dysart council holds meeting

At the August meeting of Dysart et al council, the following items of business were discussed:

General Accounts totalling $53,381.09, Road Accounts totalling $135,203.41 and Social Services totalling $4,060.04 were approved for payment.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton, and the Canadian Legion of Haliburton were granted permission to use the arena grounds for their annual summer carnival. The decision confirmed a phone resolution made earlier.

The Kinsmen Club of Haliburton were granted permission to hold their first annual Slipp and Sliding four-wheel drive rally on the property of the municipal garage site, highway 519N.

The application for a water lot for municipal road purposes (Lot 25, conc. 13, Guilford) as per survey by H. C. Bishop, dated Feb. 5, 1979, was approved and recommended to the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign on behalf of the municipality the severance of Leslie Smith (deeding 33 ft. to the township from the centre line of the existing roadway), part Lot 5, Concession 7, Dysart, and return to Gardiner for final registration.

Council concurred with Ministry of Natural Resources and their conditions with reference to Ron Bolender's proposed dredging, Drag Lake, Lot 9, Conc. XI, Dudley Township.

The Ministry of Housing, Subdivisions Branch, will be requested to circulate draft plan of subdivision 46T-75364, Walling Farm, to the various agencies for comment, as an Official Plan Amendment has not been submitted to the ministry for approval.

A certificate of occupancy was given Mr. and Mrs. Victor Matthews, Box 174, Wilberforce, Ontario re: Part 1, Concession 1, Harcourt.

Subject to the approval of Ministry of Transportation and Communications, council decided to order from Canada Salt Company, 115 Tonnes (metric measure) delivered price of 22.48 per tonne.

Bel Canada were requested to give a firm commitment to establish telephone service on Drag Lake already promised as soon as possible.

By-law No. 79-39, a by-law to control noise and rescinding By-law No. 78-40, was passed.

Council concurred with the conceptual plan of subdivision, parts of Lots 28 to 33, Elephant Lake on York River, Harcourt Township.

Groups get Wintario grants

Grants totalling $47,140 have been approved for 11 projects in the Provisional County of Haliburton from the proceeds of the Ontario Lottery.

Culture and Recreation Minister Reuben C. Baetz said the grants are part of the Share Wintario program for the support of cultural and recreational facilities and activities.

To date in 1979, the ministry has allotted $19.1 million to more than 2,535 groups and projects across the province. Projects that will be receiving or that have already received Wintario funding this year are as follows:

The Dorset Lions Club Inc. will receive a grant of $25,680 to share in the cost of establishing a camp facility for the medically disabled and residents of the area.

A grant of $5,387 has been made to the Township of Stanhope to assist with the costs of constructing two double tennis courts.

The Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts used a grant of $4,250 towards the cost of a feasibility study for the establishment of an arts centre.

A grant of $4,000 will be made to the Haliburton County Public Library to assist with the purchase of Canadian films, books and large print books.

The Township of Glamorgan will use a grant of $3,450 towards the cost of a feasibility study to determine the need for a community centre.

A grant of $1,205 went to the Haliburton Girls Gymnastics Club to share in the purchase of gym equipment.

The Kinsmen Club of Minden will receive a grant of $964 towards the purchase of bleachers for a ball park.

A grant of $928 will go to the Township of Glamorgan to share in the cost of building horseshoe pits and a structured playground.

Mrs. Eleanor Augustejn will use a grant of $588 towards expenses to attend the World Crafts Council Conference in Kyoto, Japan.

A grant of $350 will be made to the Minden Library Museum Committee to assist with the cost of a feasibility study.

The Haliburton Legionnaires Tri-County Men's League used a grant of $338 towards the purchase of baseball equipment.

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications held an information open house at the Legion in Haliburton last Thursday to unveil plans for the resurfacing of Highway 121 from Minden to Haliburton. The project will cost an estimated $1.5 million. Here Ministry official Dan Chretien discusses the plans with some of the nearly 40 ratepayers who attended the meeting.

Stanhope approves donations

At the most recent meeting of Stanhope council, the following matters were considered:

Roger Woods declared interest in the accounts payable. Council approved the placing of fill and the construction of a retaining wall in front of property owned by Mr. Mark Kahkonen (Part Lot 26, Conc. 4), Maple Lake, subject to all other required approvals being obtained.

It was decided to request a renewal of the land use permit from the Ministry of Natural Resources for part Lot 18, Concession 9 and the clerk was authorized to forward the $5.00 permit fee.

Council authorized a donation of $50 each to the West Carleton Disaster Relief Fund and also the Sudbury Region Disaster Fund to financially aid the respective areas as a result of recent flood damage.

Clerk Gerald Bain was authorized to contact the Director of Standards, Assessment Division, Ministry of Revenue requesting information on why vacant land was excluded from the sales/appraisals values in determining new equalized assessment factors for Ontario. Council also requested equalized factor calculations for each municipality (township) in Haliburton County be forwarded to Stanhope.

Council decided to forward a formal application form for amending By-law 77-15 to Mrs. Margaret Carew for further processing of her request to rezone property on part Lot 8, Concession 4, Township of Stanhope.

The rezoning of Mary Walker property fronting on township road only from RU zoning to RR zoning was approved.

Council adopted the attached "Schedule A" as a formal application form for requesting an application to council for amendment to the comprehensive zoning By-law 77-15 for the Township of Stanhope.

Council authorized a refund of taxes on $25 assessment to Mrs. Nunn for property described in Roll Number 050 301 016 for 12 months in the years 1976, 1977 and 1978 respectively. This authorization granted as a result of a gross or manifest error by the Assessment Commission. It is understood the total amount of refund is $32.12.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to execute, on behalf of the township, an agreement dated August 1, 1979 between Air Haliburton Limited and the township with respect to a Fixed Base and Commercial Service at the Haliburton Highlands Stanhope Airport. A previous agreement dated September 1, 1976, was revoked.

The clerk was asked to forward a copy of Plan 19R-1967 to the municipal solicitor requesting that a deed be prepared transferring Part 1 of said plan from Brown Camping Supplies Ltd., to the Corporation of the Township of Stanhope. Council decided to request the maximum funding under the Ontario Home Renewal Program for the 1979-80 fiscal year.

Council approved a supplementary wage payment to Marilyn Kinsman to cover 28 hours of preparatory work for a sum of $98 plus an additional $160 to cover additional wages for the month of July and August, 1979. Council acknowledged receipt of minutes of the Recreation Committee minutes dated May 2, 1979, May 30, 1979, June 27, 1979 and August 1, 1979, respectively.

Council also acknowledged receipt of minutes of the Community Centres Board minutes of meetings held June 13, 1979, June 28, 1979 and July 26, 1979, respectively.

It was resolved that $1,400 be transferred from the Recreation Special Reserve to the township general account.

What no one needs

Last weekend, at a rock concert at the Minden arena, officers from the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police laid 33 charges for illegal possession of liquor. Close to 2000 young people lined up outside the arena to gain admission, many of whom, it would seem, came not for the music but for the chance to act irresponsibly in the protection of a crowd. The rear window of a police cruiser was smashed out in a hail of beer and liquor bottles between eight p.m. and nine p.m., before the concert had even begun.

Unruly crowds and irresponsible behaviour have been common at the concerts throughout the summer, but the events of last Sunday were the worst yet. They make it clear that the time has come to put an end to the concerts before any serious injuries are suffered.

Leaving aside aesthetic arguments about the merits of the 'music' and even health related arguments about the potential for hearing damage from excessive decibel levels, the case for ending the concerts is strong. When public property, public peace and public safety are at stake, their can be no defense of the concerts.

The incidents of last Sunday bring to mind basic questions about the rights young people have in the community. On the one hand, those who enjoy a certain kind of music ought not be denied access to that music if there are people willing to bring it to them. In this case, a Toronto promoter books the bands and pays the Minden Recreation Committee for the use of the arena. The recreation committee cannot be faulted for allowing the promoter to use the arena, especially since the committee no doubt sought and gained guarantees that the concerts would be run in an orderly manner and that public property, especially the arena grounds and building, would be protected.

In practice, neither of these criteria have been met, and the whole matter must now be rethought.

Young people might argue that they have a right to a form of entertainment they enjoy, and the argument is valid to a point. That point is reached when public drunkenness results in damage to police cruisers.

Not all of those who lined up for Sunday's concert were unruly or irresponsible of course. In fact, the majority of those who came to the concert kept the peace and came for the music. It is unfortunate that the actions of a few of their number got out of hand. Nevertheless the concerts should not be allowed to continue next year.

There are better ways to use public property, and there are better forms of entertainment than the promoters of the Minden rock concerts have provided.

One of the best

The Kinmount Fair has long been recognized as one of the best small fairs in the province. It is a reputation that is well deserved, and that can only have been strengthened by this year's version of the fair, which went off without a hitch over the weekend.

Historically, fairs have played a significant role in the life of rural communities. That significance has centred around the fact that fairs bring people together in a spirit of friendly competition and cooperation. The fair was a place where farmers could measure their animals and their crops against those of others. It was a celebration of the harvest, a chance for men of the land to pit their skills and their luck against the skills and luck of their neighbours.

Today the community at large has access to other diversions, and the fair has become one event on a calendar of many. Yet it still retains much of its historical significance, and that perhaps, is why the fair holds such broad appeal.

It isn't necessary to have close contact with the land to appreciate the livestock and horse competitions. It's enough that the fair gives people a chance to see cattle, sheep, swine and horses displayed at their best. The rural fair brings agriculture to the forefront, a position it does not enjoy in the minds of many people for the rest of the year, even though they depend on its products. It gives neighbours and strangers alike an opportunity to compete in categories that recognize the skills of the homemaker, craftsman and artist. It unites the community, if only for a weekend.

It takes the efforts of many people to make a fair a reality. But when the result is a weekend as entertaining and enlightening as Kinmount and area people provided for thousands of others last weekend, the work is time and energy well spent.

The organizers of the Kinmount Fair deserve the thanks and the support of the community.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The following is an open letter to the Minden Arena Committee.

On Labour Day weekend I had the disagreeable task of policing the Minden arena rock concert. Never as a policeman nor a private citizen have I been subjected to such abuse nor witnessed such vulgarity. For two years we have appealed to you not to sponsor these events but to no avail. Now the promoters are planning enthusiastically towards 1980.

Before you grant these Toronto based persons permission to use your community owned arena, consider the following events which occurred this past Sunday: (a) a police cruiser had the rear window smashed out and received numerous dents when pelted with 15 to 20 empty beer, wine and liquor bottles. Two other cruisers were struck but not damaged; (b) two officers were struck by flying bottles; (c) a youth was found lying spread-eagled unconscious beneath a pick-up truck; (d) 38 persons were charged with the unlawful possession of liquor. Only one was from Haliburton County; (e) numerous youths were observed stumbling from the arena before vomiting; (f) the arena parking lot and the arena itself were littered with beer and liquor bottles, many of them smashed.

As there is very little profit by the arena after staff is paid for the monumental clean-up, why then do you promote these debacles which draw 2 to 3,000 unruly people from Toronto, Hamilton and other out-of-county locations. If you're acting on the premise that any event which draws people to Haliburton County has to be a good thing then what next? Perhaps a chicken killing contest to attract the motorcycle gangs?

I am proud to be a part of the Minden community and will always perform my sworn duty to protect its inhabitants and their property. What perplexes me is why my task has to be made so difficult.

Signed: a concerned police officer

P.S. If you think perhaps my stand on this issue is too personal, consider this incident which occurred on Sunday in addition to all the bad mouthing, name calling and animal sounds directed at me and my fellow officers: When the leader of one of the rock groups strapped an oversized appendage onto his body and proceeded to insert it into any and all of the openings in a lifesize inflatable doll, the doll was introduced simply as "a policeman's wife". Personal enough?

Editor's Notebook

I wasn't surprised that it happened, but that didn't do much to soften the blow to my pride.

I had gone to a council meeting in Minden the night of the game, and with reporter Joe Banks away on two weeks holidays, there was no one who could be there. The only answer was to work from the scorebook.

Now, that isn't at all difficult if you have a practiced eye and know how to read the lines, "x's" and tiny letters that tell you who hit when, to what base, and who struck out, grounded out, flied out or walked. I don't have a practiced eye though, and so it was.

On Tuesday afternoon last week, with all the other stories done, the editorials written and the pictures printed, I sat down at the typewriter to do the story I had been avoiding ever since I looked at that scorebook and felt the first twinge of panic; a story on the first game of the finals in the men's recreational baseball league, a game Anson, Hindon and Minden council had kept me from seeing.

With the minutes ticking away and the spectre of 20 blank pages waiting to be laid out looming large, I closed my eyes and plunged into it. It had been a terrific game I heard up and down the street the morning after, and especially in the pitching department. Each pitcher had struck out twelve men apiece, a rare accomplishment in any league.

The story finished, I handed it to the typesetter and thought I was through. A few hours later it was on the finished page, and off to the printing plant in Bracebridge.

All through Wednesday no words about the story reached my ears.

That night I headed for the ball diamond to catch the second game, cameras and notebook in hand. And it didn't take me long to find out. There is nothing quite like the sickening feeling that comes over you when you find out that all through a story on an excellent game you have said Peter Lymburner was the pitcher when in fact it was Mark Schell who was on the mound for the twelve strike-outs Curry Motors notched up against LaRue Motors' batters.

Nothing to do but make your apologies and get on with the job of taking pictures even if you feel more than a little sheepish.

And to say that I did is an understatement.

Feir Play

You know it's always hard to say goodbye, but this past week we have had to say goodbye to our summer visitors who have been with us, some for a few weeks, while others were here for two months or more. We hope that you have enjoyed your holiday with us and that you will keep returning in the fall and during the winter months. The fall is usually a lovely time here in the Highlands of Haliburton when the leaves turn into brilliant colours and it is a spectacle to behold. We have a great many attractions lined up for you this winter and if you are one that likes to do things on your own, there is downhill skiing at Sir Sam's Inn, cross country skiing, skating, hockey, curling, snowmobiling, you name it and we have it right here in the Highlands of Haliburton. And to top it all off we have modern facilities throughout the Highlands that will make your winter visit one that you will never forget. So why not come back and join us. You can be assured that we will treat you royally and we will be looking forward to seeing you.

The local Community Centres and Recreation Committee have decided to leave the ice in at the Dysart Community Centre in Haliburton. This means that ice time is available and if you are interested in renting ice time please phone Don Lloyd at 457-1233. In past years the ice has been taken out at the end of August and wasn't put back in until the middle of October. This year it's going to be different and with these extra practice sessions our hockey teams should have a jump on some of the other centres who will not be putting their ice in until a later date.

In conversation with Garnet Graham last week he told me that up to this time he has sold over 7000 Yip Sticks. Most of the proceeds from the sale of these fun gadgets has gone to the Fenelon Falls Rotary Club. Garnet who sold life insurance out of Fenelon Falls is now retired and he is well-known in this area.

Campers in Algonquin Park were forced to flee when a black bear invaded at dinner and finished their meals for them. And another couple huddled in their tent while a bear circled the campsite after munching a four-day supply of food. Now, game wardens are advising campers to string food packs at least 12 feet off the ground between two well-spaced trees. For some reason the bears are going into campsites with increasing regularity and consequently more and more are being destroyed or moved from the park.

The U.C.W. Rally for Region 6 will be held in the Gooderham United Church on Wednesday, September 12. Registration is from 9:30 to 10:00 a.m. Theme is "Fruit of the Spirit is Love". The guest speaker will be Rev. Henry Getz, Area Minister for Northern Pastoral Charge. All ladies are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Scheffee of Haliburton were honoured recently when two Rotary exchange students from Brazil stayed with them at their home here for five days in which time they had the opportunity to visit with their son Michael who just recently returned from Brazil where he had visited for a year as a Rotary exchange student from the Rotary Club of Haliburton. The two girls were Virginia Cortez, from Barra Mansa, Brazil who is at present at Iroquois Falls, Ontario as a Rotary exchange student and Cecilia Evora, also from Barra Mansa, Brazil, a Rotary exchange student who is staying at Monongahela, Pennsylvania, U.S.A. We might mention here that Michael Scheffee had stayed at both of these girls' parents' homes when he was in Brazil.

Some people it seems will go to any length to get a laugh even when it's at some other person's expense. On a recent Sunday evening I happened to be standing in front of the Haliburton Red & White store talking to a friend of mine when Mr. and Mrs. Allan Francis drove up and asked us if we would jump in the car as there was a person laying on the highway this side of the Lakeshore Marine. When we arrived on the scene two young people jumped up and scrambled away laughing. They must be hard up for entertainment.

The Kinmount Fair was, as usual, a resounding success. Large crowds filled the fairgrounds for both days of the event and the many interesting attractions kept them there all day. The Kinmount Fair is without a doubt a success story in the fair and carnival business in the northern part of Victoria County and in Haliburton County. This fair is a success for many reasons, including the fine facilities at the fairgrounds, an excellent grandstand show, a country fair atmosphere, a monster midway and a number of other attractions. The big reason for the success of this fair is the hard work put into it by our local M.P. Bill Scott, the Fair Board and the many people who get involved in the area.

Report from Parliament

by Bill Scott M.P.

Bill Scott, M.P., Victoria-Haliburton, is pleased to announce that New Horizons grants have been awarded to three senior citizens groups in the constituency.

The Riverwood Estates Social Club of Lindsay has received a grant of $6,468 to be used to equip its quarters and to organize a program of recreational activities for its members. The activities will include music, dancing, sing-songs, arts and crafts, woodworking, gardening and indoor and outdoor games.

The Building Number 1 project of the Sutton Senior Citizens Club of Sutton West has received a grant of $2,152 to complete the equipping of its quarters and organize recreational activities. The program will include music, sing-songs, dancing, physical fitness, carpet bowling, bingos and table games.

The Sutton Senior Citizens Club Number 2 of Sutton West has received a grant of $879 to organize various activities for its members. The program will include music, physical fitness, quilting, cards, darts, bingos and pot luck suppers.

The New Horizons program is administered by the federal Department of Health and Welfare and assists groups of retired persons in creating projects and undertaking activities for the benefit of seniors in the local community.

Interested individuals in Lindsay should contact Mr. J. McIntosh, president of the Riverwood Estates Social Club, at RR #4, Riverwood Estates. Interested individuals in Sutton West should contact Mrs. Gladys Walker, president of the Building Number 1 project, at 39 North Street, or Mr. John E. Bonney, president of the Social Club Number 2, at 37 North Street, Apt. 202, in Sutton West.

It's Been Quite a Season

Looking back over the summer season briefly, as we gear up for fall, it would seem that one should be attempting to learn some important lessons from it. It was different from previous ones in many ways - better on the whole for most, and poor for a few.

One member remarked to us recently that while all businesses seemed to be busy and doing extremely well, everyone seemed to be looking forward with great anticipation to Labour Day. This seemed to be a fairly accurate observation, but not a healthy sign. It would seem more natural to expect business people, when business is booming to want it to go on forever.

We have, as mentioned in this column a few weeks ago, received more than the average number of complaints this year as well. Complaints from all directions - from visitors about operators, from operators about visitors, from operators about each other, from residents about visitors, from operators about travel counsellors, and from travel counsellors about operators. How often in the complaint the statement comes up that "I'm not being treated royally", and by others that "Some people don't deserve to be treated royally."

It would appear that the Ontario government's "Royally" campaign has created an atmosphere of awareness that may well backfire on some of us if we are not careful. The public has been bombarded with the statement that our tourist facilities - which included all types of businesses in tourist areas - will "Treat Them Royally". They may have visited our area and your business establishment many times before, but suddenly, as a result of this effective campaign, they expect to be treated different.

On the other hand when the government offered hospitality training seminars in the spring, they were not entirely welcomed by businesses. "After all" was the response by many, "we have always treated our customers royally." That may well be true - but this year they expected something different, and when it didn't happen they became super critical of the things that didn't used to bother them before.

Another factor we see is price. Prices of everything, everywhere have soared, but people are still buying. Because of the price escalations however, people tend to be more critical of what they are getting and how it is presented - "after all if I'm paying that much for it, I should be satisfied." Although price is a factor in creating a complaint atmosphere we have never received a complaint that anyone was overcharged - just underserved. We have found, particularly in the resort industry, that people don't mind paying a little more if they are getting what they want - while paying a little less never makes up for being unsatisfied.

There are a few businesses in the county that were down this summer - but only a few. For those that did well it would not do to get complacent that they are doing everything right, because business in general was excellent. Those that didn't do well should be looking very hard at what they did wrong. The visitors were certainly here in good numbers and those that were providing what they wanted capitalized on that. We can do much better though. All of us - businesses, individuals, associations, government bodies and organizations such as our Chamber should be taking a long critical look at what we did, and what we should have done, and plan on doing better next year.

Trailer Park Licence "Dumping"

Indication of Things to Come

The Ontario Ministry of Industry & Tourism's decision to discontinue the licence administration of campgrounds and trailer parks is typical of what we may see happening in the near future. At the Ontario Chamber of Commerce convention in May, the provincial government served notice that they would be placing more responsibilities at the municipal level than in the past. They say they are answering an appeal from the municipalities for more control over their own destiny. Sounds good - but in actual fact what is happening is a tax shift. All governments have been called upon to slow

If you have never been involved in municipal politics, you should have a go. Run for anything from dog catcher to mayor. If you lose, it will be good for your ego. If you win, it will be good for your humility.

I speak, as always, from personal experience. For two years I served on a town council. It was illuminating, if not very enlightening.

I was elected, of course, by acclamation. As was everybody else on the council. So keen were the citizens to serve that some years, on nomination eve, we had to go down to the pub, drag a couple of characters out, and guide their hands while they signed up.

When I was elected, I was present as a reporter. There were only five other people in the council chambers, so it was decided that I would be elected as the necessary sixth. Since I had already served on the executives of various moribund organizations which had died forthwith, I agreed. It didn't die, as I'd hoped. The next year we were all re-elected. By acclamation.

It was pretty heady stuff, at first. As a partner in a printing plant, and a newspaperman, I was immediately appointed chairman of the Printing, Advertising, and Public Relations Committee of council. This meant that our firm automatically received the contract for the

Curry's take LaRue Motors, win recreational league title

On the strength of a six run performance and strong pitching by Mark Schell, Curry Motors defeated LaRue Motors last week to take championship honours in the Haliburton men's recreational softball league.

The victory was the second in a row for Curry Motors in the two out of three league final series.

The first game, a pitching duel unmatched in regular league play, set the stage for last Wednesday's contest between the two strong hitting and fielding squads.

Both teams got off to fast starts in the field and slow starts at the plate, with LaRue Motors suffering two quick outs in their first at bat before Scotty LaRue registered a single. He was left on base however, as Schell struck out his pitching rival Sid Cooper for the third out.

Curry's went down in three straight in the bottom of the first to bring up John Robinson in the top of the second. Robinson got solid wood on the ball for the first home run of the game to put LaRue ahead 1-0. Tom Curry then hit a single into a three base error, and Brian Mulholland tapped a single that resulted in Curry being called out at the plate. The LaRue drive was cut short when the next two batters went down in quick succession.

Mark Schell notched a double for Curry's in the bottom of the second, but he was thrown out at third to retire the side following an Eric Martin double and a single by Paul Morissette.

In the top of the third, Paul Dawson notched a single for LaRue but was thrown out at second. Scotty LaRue reached third on errors off a single but he was left on base as Mark Schell again sent Sid Cooper away from the plate without a hit.

In the bottom of the third Curry's went down in order and left no one on base.

With Curry's still scoreless, LaRue Motors began to threaten in the top of the fourth, as John Robinson hit a double and an error on a Tom Curry single put men on second and third. The threat died however as neither man advanced when the next three batters went down.

The bottom of the fourth saw Curry's draw their first blood of the night as Pete Lymburner connected for a home run off a Sid Cooper strike to tie the score at one apiece.

Cooper then struck out Mark Schell, to bring up short stop John Wilson, who found the mark for Curry's second homer of the night.

Eric Martin then notched a single and was driven to third on another single, this one by Steve Roberts, but there was no further scoring in the inning.

In the top of the fifth, Bobby Johnston was the only man to reach base for LaRue, on an error, but he was left on base as the next three batters went down.

In the bottom of the inning, Art Dawson batted a double but was thrown out at third. Pete Lymburner and John Wilson also got on base. They were kept off the scoreboard by the LaRue squad's solid fielding, however, and the score remained Curry's 2, LaRue's 1, going into the sixth.

LaRue couldn't mount a threat in the top of the sixth, bringing up Curry's for what turned out to be their final at bat.

Steve Roberts started the inning off right for Curry's by notching a single, but he was thrown out on an attempt to steal second. The team then exploded with a flurry of hits that sent LaRue scrambling to ward off defeat. Paul Morissette batted a home run to widen the gap to 3-1, and then Kevin Sisson connected to make it 4-1 with only one man away. Mike Carpenter also found the mark to drive in the third successive homer of the evening, and LaRue was clearly in trouble.

Art Dawson then hit a fly for the second out, bringing up Pete Lymburner who connected for a double. A single by Mark Schell sent Lymburner home and John Wilson's single kept the hitting streak alive. Both men were left on base however as LaRue got the third out and headed for the top of the seventh and their last hope of forcing the series into a third and deciding game.

It wasn't to be however, as Bobby Johnston notched the only hit, a single, with one away. Two quick outs ended the game and sent the Curry Motors team onto the field for a victory celebration.

They took home the trophy donated by Dawson Insurance to wind up an exciting season in the men's recreational league.

Moose seminar announced

The largest moose management seminar in southern Ontario this year will be hosted on Saturday, September 15, 1979 by the Pembroke Outdoor Sportsman's Club in cooperation with the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Experts in wildlife management will open the seminar at 9:00 a.m. at the clubhouse located at the junction of Highway 62 and Renfrew County Road 26, and discuss a wide range of moose management topics of concern to all hunters and conservationists.

An interesting program supported by films, slides and lectures, followed by a question and answer period, is planned. Some of the topics highlighted will be "Management Goals for Moose", "Parasites, diseases and predators", and "The Future of Moose Hunting" in Ontario.

The host clubhouse is located in the west end of the City of Pembroke where adequate accommodations are available for out-of-town guests. There will be a nominal charge for admission to cover lunch, refreshments, and other incidental expenses.

Firearm certificates needed

The hunting season is only a month away, so now's the time to start planning that trip.

Of course, you'll plan on taking a rifle. Maybe you're planning on getting a new rifle or shotgun. Did you know that you'll need a firearms acquisition certificate before you acquire a new long gun, and that includes borrowing one?

OPP Superintendent Jim Villemaire, the chief provincial firearms officer, said the force is "expecting a large number of applications to be made by people who are getting equipped for the upcoming season."

It could take several weeks for a firearms acquisition certificate to come through. By applying now, you will have a better chance of getting an FAC before the hunting season approaches, Villemaire said.

About 30,000 firearms acquisition certificates have been issued since January 1.

Curry Motors took championship honours in the Haliburton men's recreational softball league last week after defeating LaRue Motors in two straight games. Team members are, clockwise from left: Bill

Minden takes two game lead in ladies softball league final

In series A semi-final action in the Haliburton County ladies softball league, the West Guilford ladies team took Haliburton in three games straight. With strong pitching from Nancy Brink, the Guilford team hung on to defeat Haliburton 13-8 in the third game. Nancy Maughan took the loss.

In series B, the Minden Homestead ladies kept pace with West Guilford by taking the Stanhope ladies also in three straight. Stanhope played a strong first four innings going ahead of Minden 9-4 but Minden erupted for eight runs in the fifth inning to win the game 13-10. Stanhope was led by Lorna Wilson, Marg Darby and Kelly Harrison. Minden was led by Ann Hewson and Carolyn Anderson. Marg Darby was the losing pitcher while Ann Hewson went all the way for the third Minden victory.

The first game of the finals between West Guilford and the Minden Homestead ladies got underway last Monday night in Minden. West Guilford jumped out in front early in the game and had a 5-2 lead at the end of five innings. In the top of the sixth West Guilford led 7-3 but with Minden at bat in the bottom of the sixth, scored four runs to tie the game. In the top of the seventh West Guilford's first two runners got on base but Ann Hewson pitched perfect balls to get the next three batters out. In the bottom of the seventh, Marg Fielding led off with a single and scored on Helen Burk's double to win the first game of the finals 8-7. Nancy Brink took the loss while Ann Hewson got the win.

In the second game of the finals being played at Haliburton as West Guilford's home game, West Guilford again jumped into an early lead and had Minden down 4-0 after three innings. In the top of the fourth inning Minden's bats exploded for seven runs. Minden got two runs in the sixth, one in the park home run by Marlene Wilson, then three in the seventh and held off a bottom of the seventh rally by Guilford who scored five runs. Minden won 13-10.

Nancy Brink took the loss while Ann Hewson got the win.

The league executive would like to apologize to the many tourists who will not see the final games because of the games going into September.

Coboconk to host Ontario canoe championship meet

Coboconk will play host to the championship meet for marathon canoeists in Ontario this year. On Saturday, September 8, over 75 teams will be competing in 10 classes. The event will begin on the east side of highway 35 at 12 noon, and finish about 2 hours later at the Lions Park.

The Coboconk Lions Club are assisting with the financing and organizing of the event. They are also hosting a banquet and dance for the competitors and their families Saturday evening. The Coboconk Lions Club have hosted canoe races in conjunction with their annual carnival during the past two years. Following the success of these two events, they requested that the Ontario Marathon Canoe Racing Association hold its annual championship event here. The Ontario Canoe Racing Association accepted the Lions' offer for its second annual championship. Last year it was held in London.

The O.M.C.R.A. is a relatively young organization, which is trying to promote marathon canoe racing as an amateur sport in Ontario. In four years it has grown from six events and 22 racing

Competition keen at Kinmount

Horse draws were crowd pleasers

Harris of Coboconk.

Competition was keen in the horse divisions, and both single horses and teams in various forms provided spectators who jammed the grandstand with displays of beauty, grace, speed and strength.

In the draft pony division there were 13 entries and judges had a tough time coming up with a winner. In the end however, after some careful consideration, Alan Squelch of Oshawa was awarded the top prize.

The prize for the best heavy horse team in parade went to Wallace Denne of Washago.

Best entry in the four horse hitch category was that of Russel Cochrane of Blackstone.

Winner in the six horse hitch category were the magnificent Belgians of Keith Hobden of Lindsay.

Among the saddle horses in parade, one of the most stunning competitions of the fair, the entry of Guy Luke of Oshawa was given top prize.

At 12:30, competition was suspended while the parade wound its way from the village to the fairgrounds and around the track ending in front of the packed grandstand. This year's parade had a warriors day theme, and representatives from a number of Legions took part. Also riding in the parade were M.P. for Victoria-Haliburton, Bill Scott and M.P.P. for the same riding, John Eakins.

Best decorated bicycle in the parade was entered by Carrie Dettman of Kinmount. The best commercial entry was that of Lywood coachworks of Rosedale. The prize for the best non-commercial entry went to John Austin of Kinmount for a float that featured youngsters in costumes of various countries as a salute to the International

Year of the Child.

The best antique car in the parade was the 1909 Model T of Bob Thompson from Bobcaygeon.

Following the parade the official opening ceremonies took place in front of the grandstand. Among those taking part were Somerville Reeve Maurice Watson, chairman of this year's fair, John Eakins, Bill Scott, and Victoria County Warden, Jack Coulson.

Competitions continued throughout the afternoon, winding up with the heavy horse draw, which was won by the team of Joe McFeeters of Fenelon Falls.

Activities at the fair continued Sunday, highlighted by the demolition derby, which got underway at 2 p.m. Rain that fell intermittently throughout the early afternoon didn't hamper the derby, and except for the fact that it sent some spectators scrambling for shelter, the rain actually helped by keeping dust to a minimum, affording the crowd which surrounded the track in front of the grandstand, a better view of the action.

The crunch of metal, the roar of engines and the hiss of shattered radiators continued through three heats, with the top two survivors in each heat earning a place in the finals. Six cars lined up for the last round, and when the smoke, dust and steam cleared, the only car still running was the entry of Roger Billings of Gooderham, who took home the trophy.

Final event of the afternoon was the light horse draw, which was won by John Lawrenson of Havelock.

Winning: It's a way of life for Keith Hobden

The prize money won't keep them in feed, but there are other rewards

by Len Plizze

The sun glistens from studding on harness worth more than $10,000. The Belgian team is perfectly matched. Each weighs more than a ton, yet they are gentle animals, and they stand quietly while Keith Hobden makes final checks.

Hobden climbs aboard the yellow and green wagon, gives the reins a single flick, and calls out softly. Harness creaks, wooden spoked wheels begin to turn, and the thudding of hooves on grass covered earth send vibrations through the feet of bystanders.

Another day, another fair, and in a matter of minutes, another first place ribbon for Keith Hobden and his Belgians.

Many people keep teams for the love of horses, or for the love of older, simpler ways, or both. But for Keith Hobden, the involvement with horses goes deeper. He is one of a small number of Canadians for whom horses, and heavy horses in particular, are a full-time occupation. Each time he wins, whether it's at a small rural fair like the one held in Kimmount over the weekend, or at shows as large as the CNE, he adds to his reputation as one of the finest breeders of heavy horses in the country.

Keith Hobden set to compete

But victory doesn't come cheaply. Hobden brought six Belgians to the Kimmount Fair, the least valuable of which represents an investment of $8000. Fitted out in harness custom made by a craftsman in Maidstone at a cost of $10,500, and drawing a wagon Hobden bought for $4,000 and spent another $2,500 repairing, his six horse hitch is worth at least $60,000. Coupled with the feed, the truck and trailer, and the transportation costs, Hobden spends more to enter competitions than he could bring home even if he took first place every time out. Why does he do it? The answer isn't simple.

Hobden grew up around horses, and for the past 29 years, he has been involved in the business of breeding and selling them for profit. He keeps close to 50 Belgians, Percherons and Clydes on his farm near Lindsay. And all of them are for sale. In fact, the six horse hitch he brought to Kimmount and that netted him more than one first place ribbon, is for sale to any buyer who can come up with the price. Hobden sells horses individually and as teams, and only his best two Belgians are certain to remain together until this year's round of shows is over. They weigh 2260 pounds and 2300 pounds, and Hobden won't split them up until he's through winning this year, although a number of people already have their eye on the biggest of the pair.

"I sell a lot to the pullers," Hobden says. "I sold one complete six horse hitch to the Alberta Game Farm."

Though Hobden breeds animals on his farm, he also travels to the United States to purchase good horses. It takes a practiced eye to know a horse that's worth the trouble. One of the six animals in his present hitch, for example, was bought from an Amish farmer. It had been worked hard and 'If you haven't got good stuff, there's no use going out,' he says.

His six horse hitch is worth $60,000

"wasn't in very good shape," Hobden says. But he liked its lines, and after some special care and feeding, it is now 400 pounds heavier, a good deal stronger, and not incidentally, much more valuable.

Hobden's horses are used almost exclusively for show, but to keep them in shape, he puts in 33 acres of grain with teams hooked up to the plow. He competes in 20 to 25 shows a year. It's a family affair, and both his wife and his daughter know their way around the teams.

Hobden is a firm believer that you'll never win in a horse show if you haven't got the best animals and the best equipment. "If you haven't got good stuff," he says, "there's no use going out."

Besides the fact that the prize money "doesn't even pay for the feed," at many shows, there can be frustrations for Keith Hobden and the men like him who compete at small rural fairs.

On Saturday, the day of the horse competition in Kimmount, Hobden and his family were up at five a.m. washing down the animals to get them ready. They were at the grounds by ten a.m. and by noon, all six horses were harnessed, the wagon prepared, and his teams ready to compete. Last year, Hobden had been dissatisfied with the way the show was run at Kimmount, and he says he swore he would not come back. But he came, and once again, he was frustrated with the arrangements. At shows in the States, Hobden says, coliseums are packed with people who come to see the teams in action. At Kimmount, the heavy horses are not shown in front of the grandstand crowd, but were confined to a show ring inside the track. As a result, spectator interest was less than it might have been.

"It's kind of discouraging," Hobden says. "All the horsemen feel the same."

Why do the horsemen go to the trouble then? Hobden says it's a hobby, and once you begin, you just keep getting more and more involved.

"Some people like cottages, boats, that's what they spend their money on. We like horses. That's why we're into it," he says.

Even though the costs of buying, keeping and showing heavy horses continues to rise, interest in the hobby is rising. And pullers aren't the only people who want the kind of animals Keith Hobden has to offer.

"People who haven't had horses for 30 years are wanting teams now," he says.

One man who called him recently is perhaps typical of one kind of buyer who comes to Keith Hobden. An old man with grey hair, he came from the United States to pick out a team like one Hobden had sold to another buyer.

"Can you sell me a team like that Keith," the man said. "I want one more team before I die."

Of course, Hobden says smiling at the recollection, the old man got his team.

Farm News

Sap beetles are plentiful again this year. And as the summer progresses, their numbers seem to be increasing.

Sap beetles, sometimes called picnic beetles, are small, black beetles with two yellow spots on each wing. They were a nuisance in containers of ripe strawberries and raspberries, and are now showing up in sweet corn, tomatoes and other fruits and sweet vegetables.

The beetles are attracted by the odour of fermenting juices from blemished fruit and vegetables. Tomatoes which are cracked or get squashed in the garden attract the beetles. Gardeners should remove any damaged fruits to discourage them.

Corn cobs which have been damaged by corn borer, blackbirds or raccoons are another popular feeding place for sap beetles.

If you have a heavy infestation of sap beetles in your garden, you can trap some by placing several open containers baited with mashed banana, ripe melon or chopped sweet corn, around the area. Renew the bait every couple of days, destroying the beetles trapped in the container.

Extendicare News

by Dr. W.O. Anderson

We are getting ready for an overnight outing in Algonquin Park where the bears are, being the first time for a lot of us. Our kits had to be readied, pyjamas, toiletry, food, drink and shelter - ours will be a large tent. There probably will be very little for us to do, so after orienting ourselves at our first stop we may decide to travel further the second day on Highway 60 even maybe to Ottawa, or at least circle around from the east end to come back to Haliburton, maybe through Kennaway. It's not a high-way but may be passable. It passes through a very interesting region formerly reasonably well settled but now pretty much abandoned.

It is surprising how much tinkering is needed around flowers besides routine care, and what is needed must be done. The lanky deifenbachia appears to be doing well after the air layering and is no longer lanky, rather far from it. Now we have undertaken the air layering of a philodendron, which from our experience would not root as a cutting. We will know in a couple of months.

We finally got underway on our overnight outing to the Algonquin Park leaving about a quarter to noon and picnicking at Wilberforce on sandwiches, tomatoes and peaches, tea and juices. Our roll call included Ezra Lott, Mary Currah, Charlie Welch, Mrs. Hazel Parish, Charlie Fader (soon to be a centurian), Dr. Anderson, Harold Austin, Norman Titus, Alice Hartle and Mrs. Flossie Burk, of the residents; also Ronald Pearson of day care, Mrs. Ruth Griffin, R.N. as the nurse, Mrs. Pat Burk, organizer and chief, and her helper Miss Susan Ainsworth, volunteer helpers Jim and Mrs. Edna Cooper, and Mrs. Miriam Lewis. None of the powers that be would trust to the whims of the Kennaway route and so we went by Baptiste, Birds Creek, Maynooth and Whitney, arriving at the east gate in time to see the museum exhibits and a park film on lumbering. Very early in the nineteenth century, enormous white pine logs were squared at great timber waste, and at great back breaking human labour. Immense real horse power was used to get this timber to the dock yards and sailing ships at Quebec City. After shipping overseas, it was made into ships to fight Napoleon. Later the lumber companies cut their own logs to be processed into lumber for a growing lumber trade. Now in the park, the government of Ontario does the timber cutting which they sell to the lumber companies. We wondered a step further if the province would groom the forest of debris as fuel for the maple syrup industry, tapping the trees with the latest in piping to sell to prospective maple syrup concessionaires the sap for processing into maple products.

It was quite an experience when we pitched tent at the Rock Lake camping grounds, then went 10 miles for wood fuel to make our supper. By the time we ate it, it was time to turn in. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all of us, and we all slept well. We groomed ourselves, got breakfast, ate it, dismantled the tent and the camp, and were on our way to the main museum near the west gate. This museum is a splendid conception but must be seen. An attempt to put it on paper would be folly. A couple of turtles at the main entrance stared back at us as we left, but otherwise were very cute. Soon we were sitting at the only restaurant table of our trip, the one near the west gate. The food was good and the prices within our limitations.

Miss Karen Henderson has over 1700 cigarette boxes now and still eager to complete the 50,000. Anyone having donations can simply leave them stacked or tied into bundles of 100 or more on the floor of the shed. Some of us will see that Karen gets them for proper packing. To those not in the know, the 50,000 boxes are to be exchanged for a wheel chair, leaving us grateful when this is done.

Two movies were shown Thursday. The first was of the Peterborough Zoo which to most will be self descriptive. The second "Between Wars" showed the hard times of the late twenties and early thirties, when wages were very meagre, unemployment was high and food was scarce if one could buy it. It would seem that now-days we are all fortunate. There is still much unemployment but nearly all benefit from unemployment payments.

There were two spiritual leaders for our Friday morning devotional period, Lieut. Ron Mailman, and his officer wife, Linda, having with her their son Michael their bundle from heaven. Lieut. Mailman led the singing, and Linda read and explained the text, taken from Isaiah, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength. They shall mount up with wings like eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint." We were disappointed that they could not bid awhile for our usual after service snack and chat.

We still have not learned how much drizzle power Ontario Hydro generates; that is the difference between the peak and used electricity.

Last week we were too gloomy about "anthology". We must make amends by complimenting C.B.C. announcers generally for their literary aptitude, and in particular two featured literary artists, John R. Hunt of Cobalt and Arthur Black of Thunder Bay, both easy to listen to, using delightful English, English that needs no adornment. No doubt there are many others so it seems a shame that "anthology" got into a rut.

On Friday returning from a walk on Victoria St. we came unto some black cherries overhead. A few mouthfuls proved to us that they were delicious.

Despite the tremendous accumulation of human knowledge, the birth of any creature is still a miracle.

Saturday, August 25 at 6 p.m. several residents got on the bus and made their way to Haliburton Anglican Church to attend the wedding of Peter and Rachel Fearrey. Peter and Rachel are both employees of Hyland Crest, and the residents here know them both well. We were very pleased to be invited to witness their beautiful wedding and we wish them many years of wedded bliss.

The week got off to a good start on Monday morning with fun and fitness. We did our morning exercises and sang, while Doris accompanied us on the piano. Our game of kick the ball was a lot of fun as usual.

Later in the afternoon, the ladies went downstairs to the craft room to work on their projects. We are preparing several items for the Christmas bazaar. We relaxed over a cup of tea and cake after a busy afternoon.

Monday evening was movie night again at Hyland Crest. We were privileged to view three very informative films. The first called, Clean Beaches, was filmed in South West England. This movie was all about a huge tanker at sea and how it lost its oil cargo. We saw the damage the oil does to the sea life and how it pollutes the beaches. They also showed how the problem is corrected by making an air-filled boom to stop the oil from coming in to shore.

Great Moments in Canadian Sports, was filmed in Nova Scotia. It consisted of flashbacks of great moments in hockey, lacrosse, wrestling and football. We saw many of the great Canadian sportspeople, such as Foster Hewitt, Barbara Ann Scott and the great Maurice, "the rocket" Richard. This movie particularly interested the fellows in the crowd.

Bantu Todders, was filmed in South Africa and gave us a look at their natural habitat. We saw their wildlife, and birds and the fantastic growth of trees, shrubs and flowers.

All three of these films were very good and everyone seemed to enjoy their evening at the movies.

Tuesday morning several people went to the chapel for worship. Doris Robertson led us in prayer and the singing of our hymns.

In the afternoon, we had a good turn-out to the bingo game in the main lounge. Some won and some didn't, but everybody had fun.

Wednesday we had our fun and fitness program, once again. After lunch the ladies went to crafts.

The Anglican Church Women of Maple Lake made our afternoon tea party a joyous occasion on Thursday. It was our special birthday tea. The ladies and gentlemen who celebrated their birthdays in the month of August, were presented with corsages made up of carnations and a Need a lamp? Make your own!

An old, clear half gallon wine bottle makes an attractive rustic lamp when filled with layers of dried beans, corn, rice and peas.

Simply pour in a layer, gently shake the bottle to make sure they are lying compactly and evenly. Add subsequent layers of different colours and textures, filling to the top.

Insert an electrical cork kit in the neck of the bottle. These kits are available in the hardware stores. Top with an earthy shade of burlap or coarse woven material. You have a "one hour lamp" that will become a conversation piece. Plus, if things get tough you know you have a protein packed food supply handy!

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Dack and family spent the weekend at Kimmount. While there they attended the now famous Kimmount Fair. Many other villagers visited the fair meeting people they hadn't seen for a year.

HALIBURTON STATION

THE STATION WAS BUILT IN 1878 AS THE TERMINUS OF THE VICTORIA RAILWAY, AN 88-KM-LONG LINE FROM LINDSAY. THE BUILDING WAS COMPLETELY REMODELLED BY THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY AROUND 1900 AND GIVEN ITS DECORATIVE WOODWORK AND TRACKSIDE BAY WINDOW IT WAS ACQUIRED FROM THE CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS BY THE MUNICIPALITY OF DYSART ET AL ON ITS CENTENNIAL IN 1978, AND RESTORED AND ADAPTED FOR THE HALIBURTON HIGHLANDS GUILD OF FINE ARTS.

The final touch was put on the newly completed Guild Station Gallery last week with the unveiling of a plaque at the west end of the building. The spelling mistake in the seventh line apparently went unnoticed when the plaque was cast.

Norland Notebook

Reeve John Ridgway will be in the township office on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of the two weeks that the clerk, F. V. LeCraw will be on holidays - September 10 to 24. The building inspector, B. Bradmore, will be in the office on Saturdays. Office is open 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays until 12:00 noon. Vern and Phyllis LeCraw will be flying to England and Scotland to enjoy two weeks of seeing a bit of "the old country". We hope that your holiday is a happy one.

A reminder to all girls six to 15 years of age who are interested in joining Brownies, Guides and Pathfinders that registration is Monday, September 10 from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. in the Coboconk Lions Hall. Leaders and helpers are needed to assist with the leadership of these groups.

Some of our Norland young people will be advancing their education this fall. Most of the universities and community colleges open for the fall term on Tuesday, September 4 as do the elementary and secondary schools. Linda Bartley has been accepted at Sheridan College, Oakville and will be taking an executive secretary course. Her sister, Lorie will be going into her second year as a science lab technician at Sir Sandford Fleming College, Peterborough. Bob Edmonds is returning to school to take a welder fitter course at this same college. Brian and Miriam Bartley returned last weekend after spending the summer in Calgary where Brian was employed by Imperial Oil Co. Both will be attending University of Toronto where Brian will continue his engineering studies and Miriam will pursue her music course.

Donations are still being accepted for the vietnamese family being sponsored by the Coboconk-Minden area. If you would like to assist the boat family who should arrive in Canada in the next four to six weeks, please send or take your donation to Mrs. Joyce Bartley, Norland. All cheques should be made payable to Minden-Coboconk Refugee Committee and a receipt will be issued for income tax purposes.

Two of our township firemen attended the Mutual Aid meeting in Oakwood on Tuesday evening, August 28. At 7:30 o'clock about 40 firemen met at a gravel pit just north of Oakwood where oil fires previously set up by the local brigade were set ablaze. Then each man was given the opportunity to use the dry powder and CO2 fire extinguishers to gain experience in putting out fires with these types of extinguishers. Following the demonstration the men returned to the fire hall for a business meeting and refreshments.

While on the subject of fires, there are still some people who are using the fire phone number for other than emergency fire calls. Please remember that while the phone is being used for other information, etc., it is not available if someone should want to call in a fire. Also when the fire number is rung, five phones ring at that time causing an inconvenience to the five persons who answer it, only to learn that it has been run pertaining to another matter. Call 454-1119 for fire emergencies only.

Labour Day weekend is always a rather sad time because it marks the end of summer holidays for most people. We bid adieu to our cottage friends, some of whom have been in the Norland area for all of July and August. We look forward to welcoming you back next year and wish you a happy winter in the city. Our summer months always seem to pass much more quickly than the winter ones.

But Labour Day is also a happy time because Kimmount Fair is featured on this popular weekend. Many Norland residents attend this fun fair each year and seem to enjoy it. The Good Brothers who won the best country group award will perform at the grandstand on Saturday and on Sunday there will be a cat demolition derby. On both days delicious dinners are prepared and served by the Kimmount United Church women in the dining hall at the tangaroos. The exhibits are educational and the mid-way is enjoyed by many. It is called the fair with the forward look and the group in charge should be congratulated for the fine show that is presented each year.

The Minden-Haliburton Highland Hookers will begin their regular rug hooking meetings in the Ralls' End Gallery on Monday, September 17 from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. (bring lunch). Workshops for beginners, also sculpturing and primitives hooking is planned for the fall session. Any ladies from the Coboconk, Norland area are invited to join these classes. If interested, call 454-8059 for further information and possible transportation.

Norland U.C.W. Opportunity Shop is only open on Saturdays from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. during the month of September and on Thanksgiving. There is a good selection of nearly new fall and winter clothes from which you can choose for women, men and children. More and more articles in papers and magazines are pointing out the advantages of buying good used clothes instead of paying the high cost of new ones. The shop is on the east side of Highway 35 just south of Highway 503. A marriage, like a sailboat goes nowhere without a small push from an outside force.

Stanhope notes

by Alex Stevenson

Stanhope will have its own public beach next summer as a result of work now being carried out at Halls Lake just off Old Mill Road. Under the direction of councilman Elvin Johnson, Parks Chairman on township council, the area has been developed to provide a nice sandy beach 160 feet long while at the same time a swampy location has been gradually filled in and some debris removed from the beach front. Given time, this project should provide Stanhope Township with a very attractive beach area. Concurrent with the beach project councilman Johnson has also been directing work at the Hawk River Park with result that it now presents a much more attractive appearance and parklike atmosphere.

One of the township's busiest places has been the recently opened tennis courts and it is seldom that they have not been in full use during daylight hours. Some minor additions remain to be made, such as practice boards, etc. and these will be provided as the committee finds the time and the where-with-all to obtain the required materials. The Recreation Committee appreciates the cooperation and suggestions from the users, all of whom treat the new facility with respect. However, they were less than happy with finding that young cyclists and skate boarders had other uses for the paved surface of the courts. The practice seems to have stopped, hopefully for good, since these surface do not have the hardness of road pavement and consequently expensive damage could result from the misuses referred to.

The winner of the draw for the hind of beef conducted by the Recreation Committee was Mrs. Terry McConach, Scarborough, Ontario and who is also a summer resident of Maple Lake. Committee chairman, Dave McKinley, expresses appreciation to those who supported the committee in this fund raising effort.

The library has also been a busy place this summer with a heavy volume of books being circulated and in addition to this there were library related activities such as children's story time, puppet shows and the weekly movies, all of them popular and adding to the pleasure of those taking part.

Another activity which goes quietly on, each Monday afternoon, is the weekly bridge meeting in the library basement which is looked forward to by those who attend. Games begin at one o'clock and anyone interested in a sociable game of bridge is welcome. The art display at the library during Festival of Fun day drew many complimentary remarks and this was to be expected since there are quite a number of permanent and seasonal residents with excellent artistic ability. The same could be said for the craft display which was also an important part of the program and the presence of the exhibitors was much appreciated. Much credit goes to the public for making the day the success it was in spite of the unpleasant weather. As a result of the experienced gained, and due to the support from those who took part in the arrangements together with the attendance this year, early plans will be considered for a bigger and better event next year.

If you have not seen the new sign in front of the township office it is worth a trip over to the building to see this fine piece of work.

Just after Christmas the seed catalogues arrived. They showed encouraging pictures of fat pea pods, long, slim carrots, great cabbage heads and snowy white cauliflower. Just for the purchase of a few seeds all this would be yours. No mention was made of the late spring and early August frosts, of the constant annoyance of black flies and mosquitoes, of the battle for the survival of seedlings with cut worms, slugs and other infestations, of crows who dug up and feasted on the corn kernels, of woodland animals who came to dine on hot spots that turned all to dust or long rainy spells that slowed the ripening time. Who could foresee the hurricane winds that would level the corn stalks and even upturn the firmly rooted turnips. All this happened this season and surprisingly there are many good things left to harvest. Many will wish to share a little of this bounty with the church on the occasion of their harvest service which will be presented on Sunday the 9th at St. Margaret's Anglican Church at 10 a.m. This day of thanksgiving and praise is celebrated each year at this time. The church is beautifully decorated with coloured leaves and the fruits of the harvest. Those wishing to donate fruits, vegetables or canned goods could get in touch with the Rev. Moore-Smith or Mrs. Sylvia Cameron. The contributions are later delivered to the Church Army in Peterborough.

The weekly bingo games are over for another year. Mrs. Gladys Haas of Tory Hill was the lucky winner of the $420 jackpot on the last number to be called. Having been a constant participant she was warmly congratulated and applauded on her good fortune. Proceeds from the bingo games will be used for charitable organizations by the volunteer firemen who give their time for this cause. Al Revel, who is in charge of the games, has attended once a week during June, July and August. He is one of the busiest persons in town serving on the council, is a Kinsmen member, a fireman and worker on the recreation committee. He is always cheerful and obliging and is a great favourite with the bingo players.

We welcome the children back to school. This term grade 5 will be going by bus to Haliburton. At the Wilberforce school Mr. Charles Hughes, who is the principal, will be teaching grade 4. Paul Way will be in charge of grades 2 and 3. Pat Clarke will be teaching grade one with Barbara Lewis in charge of kindergarten. It is expected that the popular Bill Gliddon will be on hand once again to conduct weekly music lessons.

Mrs. Sanford Richman enjoyed a visit from her sister, Mrs. Myrtle Richmond and her daughter, of Toronto, recently.

The Dave Alton family of Thunder Bay, were recent visitors of his father, Harold Alton. Also recent visitors of Harold and Flo were Mr. and Mrs. Eric Ferdinand and son of Ottawa. Mr. Ferdinand was a very popular public school teacher here some years ago.

Sorry to report Mr. Norman Hannivan has been a patient in Ross Memorial Hospital. Our get well wishes to you, Norm.

It was with shock that word of the passing of Pat Angiers was received on Wednesday. Pat had taken suddenly ill on Saturday night and was admitted to Ross Memorial Hospital but had been doing well. Our sympathy to his bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Downes and family are home after a holiday at Collingwood, Manitoulin Island and other points north. Also enjoying a Collingwood area holiday last week were Mrs. Violet Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hannivan and girls: Mr.

and Mrs. Russell Powell and Leanne.

Congratulations to the Rev. Cross's who celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary this weekend. Their daughter and family of Ottawa, their youngest son and family from Fredricton, N.B. and their son Winston and family of RR #1, Fenelon Falls, are all with the Cross's.

Debbie Angiers and Shawn were spending a few days at Niagara Falls last week when her holiday ended suddenly with the passing of her father, Pat.

New Program Announcement

Metallurgical (MATERIALS TESTING) Engineering Technician

The Opportunities

The materials testing field is expanding rapidly, and the demand for trained technicians currently is outstripping the supply. Our materials testing courses were developed in consultation with both employers and testing personnel, and have received their enthusiastic support and endorsement.

The Field

Materials testing technicians are at work in laboratories across the nation checking a variety of materials and products, from plastics to steel, aircraft components to ball point pens. The scope is broad, since this type of work must be carried out regularly during manufacture, in service, and at periodic maintenance times to detect internal flaws and also to ensure that contract and/or quality specifications are adhered to.

As a materials testing graduate, you will be able to adapt to the work generally carried out in industrial, research, or independent testing laboratories. The broad base of knowledge gained through your College program would allow you to specialize later in one or more of the destructive or non-destructive testing techniques used in controlling the quality of materials and final products.

Your program also leads to certification by the Canadian Government Specification Board (CGSB) following some appropriate industrial experience.

Admission Requirements:

An Ontario Secondary School Graduation Diploma of any Secondary School program which includes Mathematics, English and a Science.

Exceptions including applications from mature students will be considered on an individual basis, particularly those with industrial experience in the areas of welding, metallurgy and manufacturing.

Exemptions may be granted for equivalent work completed at other post-secondary institutions.

Successful completion of certain technical courses in secondary school may lead to exemption for Grade 13 graduates after a qualifying test or project. Grade 12 graduates may be exempt in drafting, if they have completed this in secondary school. All cases are treated on an individual basis.

Haliburton Highlights

by Creighton Feir

Art Ward who operates Rollertek at the Haliburton curling rink has announced that there will be roller skating every weekend 'til Thanksgiving. Yes, that's right, it's roller skating to disco, rock and top 20 music every Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings from 7:30 p.m. until 10:30 p.m. The admission price is $2.50 per person.

Interdenominational Vacation Bible School which met from Monday, August 27 to Friday, August 31 at the Haliburton United Church was a great success. A large number of children were registered in the program and the children learned many new songs and choruses and listened to the teaching of many bible stories. All in all it was a very good week for all concerned.

The Rotary District Conference will be held at Cleveland House in the Muskokas on September 20, 21 and 22. Several couples from the Rotary Club of Haliburton have already spoken for reservations so the local club should be well represented.

Paulette's Antiques and Gifts on Highland Street will be closed from September 9 until October 1 so that the owners and staff may enjoy a well deserved holiday.

Haliburton now has a full time Optometrist. Dr. Ken Hadley has opened up his office in the Boice Plaza building behind Black's Home Hardware.

Don't forget that ice time is available at the Dysart Community Centre in Haliburton. Please phone Don Lloyd at 457-1233. They are leaving the ice in this fall at the local arena.

A large number of local teenagers were in Minden on Sunday evening to listen to the ever popular musical group "Triumph" who performed at the Minden Community Centre.

Registration for Haliburton Playtime for Preschoolers will be held on Thursday, September 13, 1979 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at St. George's Anglican Church. Children 3 to 4 years old and their parents are welcome. For more information call Caroline Bishop 754-2255.

Mark's Coffee Shop in Haliburton will be closed from September 5 to October 1 so that the owners and staff can enjoy a well deserved holiday.

delicious birthday cake. Ethel Robinson, Isabella Avery, Eliza Chalmers, Charlotte Cooper, Alma Rutter, Viola Deumo, Alberta Weber, Frank Ship and Ernest Berry. The ladies served a lovely variety of tea biscuits and cookies. It was a very pleasant afternoon indeed.

Friday morning a good number of people turned out to fun and fitness. We had a real good time, as usual.

After lunch, we welcomed the Salvation Army for sing song. We always look forward to and enjoy very much their singing and music.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all those who have saved seeds for Mrs. Deumo. She has had quite a few given to her, but she tells me she needs apple seeds desperately to finish her pictures. Also if anyone uses Legg's pantyhose, we would sure appreciate the egg-shaped containers, to use for cute bazaar items.

It's been another busy week at Hyland Crest. Keeping busy makes life worth living. Until next week, bye for now.

"Judge that day lost, whose low descending sun views from thy hand no worthy action done."

We wish to extend get well wishes to the various members of the community who have been recently or still are patients in the Huntsville hospital. They include Gladys Abernethy, whom I understand is at home, Ferg McGuire, Mac Barber and Chuck Keown. We hope they are all in good health very soon.

John Clayton has returned to his teaching job in Denver, Colorado after spending the summer here with his parents, Jack and Irene Clayton.

Stan and Ellen Booker spent a holiday in Nova Scotia accompanied by their daughter Linda. They report a pleasant time and excellent weather. Linda, who is a teacher in Cobourg, spent some time at home with her parents before going back to the classroom.

The Lions bingo is over for another year, finishing up last Thursday with the $100 jackpot being won by an enthusiastic fourteen year old boy, Owen White. The entertainment of the bingo games will be missed by many of the local regulars.

Art and Dot Lock drove to Ottawa to spend a couple of days with their daughter, Judy Young and her family.

We wish to send our best wishes for a speedy recovery to Albert Carpenter who sustained a fractured ankle after a fall from a ladder. Albert is a resident of Carnarvon where he lives with his wife and two children and is employed at the Frost Centre and is well-known by many Dorset people.

That's because your deposit on a new leased car can be substantially less than what you'd put down to buy a new car. What's more, you'll never fret over what your lease car is worth at trade-in time because your car will never get too old.

Each monthly leasing payment also covers such costs of enjoying a new car as financing, depreciation, taxes.

There are other solid reasons for leasing a new Chevrolet from us. So, come on in. Let's discuss the lease plan ... and that new Chevrolet ... that fit your needs.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

"School days, school days, good old golden rule days." That rhyme keeps running through my mind this week; for after all the young folk will all be back to the old grind again and the neighbourhoods will seem very quiet for a time until we get used to the peacefulness.

Several members of the Stamp family attended the Bresner wedding in Kapuskasing on the Labour Day weekend.

The library-museum centre group will be meeting in Minden Council Chambers on Monday, September 10 at 8 p.m. Present at that meeting will be representatives from Nicol-Ream-Johnston who are doing the feasibility study. All interested persons are invited to attend this meeting.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Kernohan last week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Demetro and sons, also Mr. and Mrs. David Bull and on the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Kernohan of Whitby.

Remember members of Minden Women's Institute only have until September 15 to get their names in to the treasurer for the W.I. bus trip. After that it is first come, first to get a seat.

Visitors with Mrs. Vera Ward last week were Mr. and Mrs. T. Leslie of Victoria, B.C. and Vera's sister, Mrs. Vic Pridham of Barrie.

Pam Carrell, who spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carrell has now entered Western University in London, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright and Chris have just returned home after a wonderful vacation in the western provinces as well as seeing the Pacific Ocean. While visiting Jim and Audrey Smith at Red Deer, Alta, Chris spent some time on the Circle Square Ranch where he won a ribbon at the rodeo and a merit badge for horsemanship. While in Saskatchewan they visited Frank's birthplace at Annaroid. There they met a gentleman 89 years young who had known Tom Hogg. Mr. Hogg owned the homestead where Jim and Annie Wright had worked while in the west. For those of you who remember Martin Taylor, his homestead was just across the road from Tom Hogg's.

The man who now owns the farm is John Dempster, grandson of a great friend of Jim Wright's.

To Frank and Blanche this visit to the homestead was the highlight of their whole trip west and they have many pictures of the homestead which they will be very proud to show you if you would like to see them.

It is quite a thrill to go back to the place where you were born; especially if it is out of the province.

Mr. Gerald Coulter of Toronto spent the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Angus Coulter.

Mrs. Maude Coulter is visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rivers in Downsview.

Saturday proved to be a beautiful warm day for all who attended the Kimmount Fair and as usual the parade was excellent.

Miss Sandra Sears of Toronto spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sears.

Laura Bird has started her Registered Nurses training at Seneca College in Toronto and Michael Bird is taking courses at Sir Sandford Fleming College in Peterborough.

How time flies; now we can see how fast the trees are turning. I saw some lovely colours on a trip over to Bracebridge last Wednesday and met Mrs. Tom Prentice and her four sons on the street there. She had treated them to an outing to Santa's Village. When I was talking to them the lads were still full of pep so the trip didn't tire the boys out much.

Adios and take care now.

town's printing and advertising, which we already had. The public relations part meant that I had to stop suggesting in the paper that the town council was made up of nitwits, nincompoops and nerds.

Another chap, with a pretty good heating and plumbing business, was named chairman of the Interior Municipal Modification Committee. Heating and plumbing.

A third, who had a tractor, a back-hoe and a snowplow, was appointed chairman of the Public Works Department. He immediately introduced a by-law raising the rates per hour of such equipment. It passed, four to two. The opposition was from another councillor, a retired farmer, who also had a tractor and a threshing machine, which he thought could be converted to plowing snow. His brother-in-law voted with him.

But these moments of power and glory soon faded. The conflict of interest became apparent, and there was no way out for a man of honour except to resign. It took me only two years to reach that conclusion. You may think that a fair time, but it's not easy to walk away from a $75 a year stipend. The mayor made $150.

As a reporter, I had been more interested in the conflicts than the interests. I had delightedly heard, and printed, one councillor call another councillor a "Gibbering old baboon." And watched the victim of the pejorative, a striping of 78, invite the name-caller outside, stripping off his jacket during the exchange. Cooler heads prevailed. It was thirty-four below outside.

Well, as you can see, as a member of that august body, the town council, I can't print that sort of thing. I had to report that the two councillors "had a difference of opinion." When I wrote that phrase and had to omit that one of the councillors was obviously in his cups, I knew I had to quit.

All of this is a preamble to a thickish document I got in the mail the other day. It is a new by-law printed and dispersed (at what enormous cost I shudder) by our local town council. There are 39 numbered pages of legal innuities, and about an equal number of pages of maps of the town, equally unintelligible.

As I said, the mailman delivered it, regardless of expense. A dozen kids could have covered the town in two hours, or stuffed them in the sewer.
Despite my wide experience as a municipal councillor, or perhaps because of it, this by-law completely baffles me.

The first thirteen pages are definitions. They tell us what is a lot, a yard (front) and a yard (rear), a garage, a building. They also inform the ignorant citizenry what a school is, a person, a restaurant, a motel, a boarding house. All alphabetically. There was not mention of "brothel" under the B's.

The by-law tells us how high our fences or hedges can be. It tells us how high our houses can be. How many square metres of floor space we must have if we decide to ask Auntie Mabel, crippled with arthritis, to share our dwelling. How many parking places we need for each establishment. Again no mention of either brothels or bootleggers.

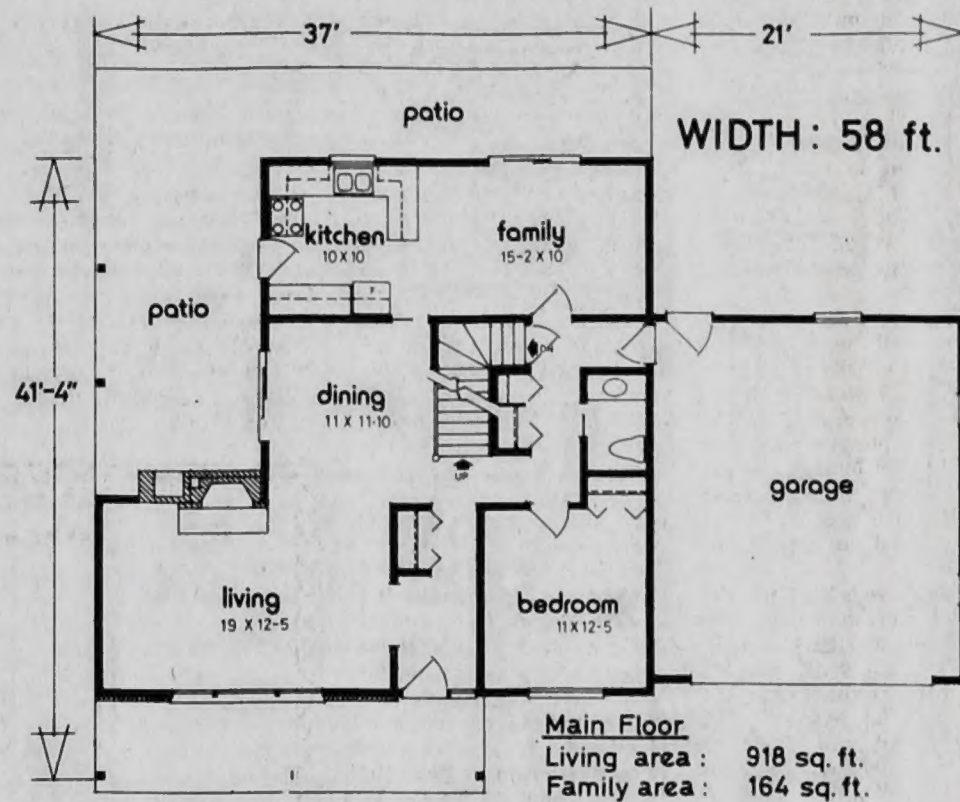

For most of the document, the by-law dwells in metres, squared and decimated. I know very few people over thirty who would know a metre from a maskinonge. Somebody on council must have cornered the market on metre sticks.

Then this baffling by-law moves into "hectares." What the heck is a hectare? To me, it's an ancient French (Canadian) piece of land about as accurate as an acre, which nobody understands either.
Here's an example: "RM2 uses are permitted as specified to a maximum of 550 persons per hectare." Is it a square mile: Is it a "Hlaire" wit' an accent?

This is crazy. When I was a councillor, we could knock off three or four by-laws in a meeting, and everybody understood them. "Moved and seconded that there shall be no loitering in the cemetery, except by those who are among the dead, not the quick." That sort of thing.

This big fat by-law is for the birds. Or the lawyers. Not for our old municipal politicians. Remember what I suggested at the beginning of this column? Forget it. Otherwise you might end up in a Detached dwelling unit, which allows "3.2 persons per unit standard." Not two. Not four. 3.2.

HOME OF THE WEEK

The deeply-recessed porch and main entrance of this three bedroom, full basement home are reminiscent of the country ranch house and yet the design provides the very latest of modern conveniences. This country feeling is carried forward by the shake roof, shuttered windows, and the mixed brick and vertical channel siding of the exterior finish.

Once inside, the impression of the "Wide Open Spaces" is emphasized by the "island" hall closet and the open and well-lighted L-shape living dining room combination. The living room features a wide cantilevered fireplace which has the barbecue feature on the patio side. The dining room separates from the kitchen via pocket door and has easy access to the surround patio via sliding glass doors.

members, to more than 25 events and 175 paddlers.

The best amateur paddlers from all over Ontario will be in Cobocok, for what should be the most closely-contested event of the year. Many local canoeists will be entered as contestants in the event.

The course will be approximately 10 miles long for the three men's, two mixed and one ladies' canoe classes. The kayak class will also use the long course. The three junior classes will compete over shorter distances.

Anyone interested in watching should contact members of the Cobocok Lions Club for a map of the course. There is no admission fee and everyone is welcome to watch.

The U-shape kitchen is positioned centrally to the dining room and the large family room, providing for good separation of casual family meals and formal guest dining. Both kitchen and family room have ready access to the patio.

The two-piece vanity bathroom behind a pocket door is well-positioned for easy access from all downstairs areas, even the garage workshop.

One bedroom downstairs and two upstairs complete the accommodations of this fine home. The two upstairs bedrooms share the three-piece master bathroom. The large master bedroom has full-width closets behind lowered bi-fold doors and the secondary bedroom has a large walk-in closet. Large linen storage facilities are positioned immediately facing the master bath.

This design would make an excellent home for the medium-sized family which requires a sense of spaciousness and enjoys the casual, "outdoor-living" style of life which this home provides.

Plans for design No. 64-1709 may be obtained at a cost of $70. for the first set and $9. for each additional set, plus $4.00 for postage and handling. B.C. residents please include 7 per cent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs, Series #34, featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas, plus 350 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling). To order these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week. Address to: Home of the Week, C/O The Haliburton County Echo, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. V5Y 1R2.

Highlights

The Rotary Club of Haliburton have announced that the arrival of this year's exchange student has been delayed approximately six weeks. It seems that she has developed a knee problem.

The ladies of the Haliburton United Church are planning to attend the U.C.W. rally for Region 6 which will be held in Gooderham United Church on Wednesday, September 12.

Here are some Haliburton personals. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Fearrey and daughter Brenda were visitors to Toronto last week.

Mr. Guy Williams of Toronto was a visitor to his cottage near Haliburton over the Labour Day weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Norm Greenfield and son Chris, were visitors to Santa's Village in Bracebridge on Sunday.

Chamber

spending cuts and the provincial government can readily improve their spending picture by dropping all these responsibilities on the municipal governments. Their will be no saving if the municipal governments have to add to their own taxes to apply for these services.

The province has left the state of the campground owners in complete confusion over this issue. The Ontario Private Campground Owners association appealed to the ministry to hold off on this move for a year to allow an organized transition of responsibilities, but Mr. Grossman insisted on dropping them now. Most municipalities still do not have a proper by-law to cover this situation and many operators are operating without any governing regulations. It was almost the end of July before the District Health Unit was advised of the facts by the ministry, but once notified, Bob MacNaull tell us his staff will be doing their utmost to see that health regulations at least are not flagrantly violated.

Guild Pottery Classes

The Guild of Fine Arts pottery classes are starting again on September 10, at the Lakeview Centre. Both afternoon and evening sessions are available at a cost of $20 or $15 respectively, to all Guild members. Cost of a membership is $5. For more information contact Marie Wallace at the Guild Gallery - 457-2330.
